

Wes Hanson Painting Workshop

Wes has painted for thirty-five years and has his works displayed at the Denise Oliver Gallery in Harrison and the Dahmen Barn in Uniontown, Washington. He teaches painting classes for North Idaho College, Spokane Art Supply, and the Dahmen Barn. For information and to see if there is space available, call Wes Hanson at 208-667-9389.

Painting with Rich Color

Creative Element (208-667-0813) at 210 W. Sunset, Coeur d'Alene (south of Home Depot)

Saturday, April 14, 2012 10 till 4 (One hour lunch)

Cost: $35 (US)

Registration deadline: Monday, April 9

Together we'll explore creating color schemes and apply them to produce readable, rich watercolors.

SUPPLY LIST

Subject Reference Materials: Photographs of barns and country landscapes.

Drawing materials: Inexpensive 8 ½ by 11 inch paper, a No. 2 school pencil, and an eraser.

Watercolor paper: One full sheet (22 by 30 inches) of Arches 140-lb. cold press.

Board (or stout cardboard): Approximately 13 by 17 inches on which to tape the quarter-sheet watercolor paper.

Brushes: One-inch flat watercolor brush and a #8, 10, or 12 round brush.

Watercolor Paints: Artist quality tube watercolor paints of the following colors or their equivalents: Aureolin Yellow, Cadmium Red Light (the orange), Quinacridone Rose (the red), Ultramarine Violet (the purple), Phthalocyanine blue, and Viridian (the green). If you already have these tube colors, don't buy new ones.

Palette: I use the Quiller Color Wheel Palette so I can quickly refer to the color wheel as I paint. Make sure your palette has an ample mixing area. I will show you where to place your paints, if you buy a new palette.

Water Container: Holding at least a quart of water. Masking Tape: Three-quarters or one inch wide.

Paper Towels.

Plastic Tablecloth to cover the tables.

To register, send this filled out and signed form and your check, payable to Wes Hanson, to Wes Hanson, 2725 W. Carder Ln., Coeur d'Alene, ID 83814.
